

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election is a clear example of the dangers of media consolidation.

Sinclair uses the public airwaves free of charge, and is obligated by law to serve the public interest. Their intent here is not to provide unbiased information, but rather to swing the election to the candidate of their choice. This can not be considered in the public interest of a democratic society.

Sinclair's actions should cost them the license. Please let them know that they endanger their business through blatant electioneering. Thank you.
